Christmas Festival Concert

A couple of weeks ago I was in Sam's Club looking for a new mattress. Our middle child, our only son, has outgrown his twin bed of his childhood and is entering a new season of his life in his teens. It's a bitter-sweet (and expensive) season of change in our house. In many ways we all want things to stay the same - yet we all know things change.

While I was at Sam's Club, I about fell over when I saw the front-yard lit-up reindeer on display along with hundreds of other Christmas decorations... 6 weeks before Halloween!??

Apparently it's not too early to be thinking about Christmas! If Christmas hasn't appeared as a blip on your radar yet - it probably will soon.

As I've collaborated with other members of our worship department and senior leadership team, we've decided to put our Christmas Festival Concert on hold this year. Some of the factors we considered in this decision are:

- our commitment to keeping Jesus at the center of our worship
- this very busy season of life in all 3 of our campuses
- the impact of some recent staff transitions (there have been more than this):
  - the biggest one being Mark Shepperd's retirement after 28 years of faithful and creative leadership at our Valley Creek Campus
  - Karl Grant's stepping up to be the point person of our traditional music at Valley Creek
  - Joel Wetzstein (me) joining our team as the Multisite Worship Director

As we honor our past traditions and at the same time look ahead to this Christmas at Woodbury Lutheran Church our focus is on Jesus. In this upcoming season our efforts are and will continue to be focused on preparing for an incredible time of worship together on Christmas Eve.

In Him,
Joel Wetzstein, Multisite Worship Director

Ministry Updates!

As we jump into ministry again this fall across all three campuses of WLC, I am again reminded of how much is going on! One of the biggest challenges in our church is to keep everyone up to speed on all that is happening, so I thought I would go at my article a bit differently and offer you a list of ministry updates to keep you in the loop; ready, set, go!

STAFFING

This has been a huge season of transition in our team. After the retirements of Mark Shepperd and Dan and Barb Arend, we are excited to welcome new staff members to our team. Brian and Theresa Ingram are now full-time in our custodial department; Karl Grant is part-time leading our Saturday night service, playing the Organ and directing the choir on our Valley Creek Campus; and Brad Miller and Joel Wetzstein are full-time working in Worship and Discipleship. Brad and Joel are truly our first multisite hires, their jobs are not tied to a single campus rather they cover the entire span of WLC.

STRATEGIC PLANNING PROCESS

Last Spring we started into a planning process to look at the ministry of WLC over the next five years. We do not have all the details worked out, but we believe that God is calling us to multiply our ministry impact in three areas. Over the next five years, we believe that God is calling us to minister to 5000 engaged disciples, to see growth in the kingdom through 500 baptisms (100 being adult) and do it from 5 ministry locations. We are currently in conversation with a local church who has offered to hand over the ministry completely to WLC. I am happy to say that we are making some real progress toward finding a use for the St. Croix campus that will impact the community for years to come, stay tuned.

GOVERNANCE AND STRUCTURE

Several years ago we moved to a Policy Based Governance structure that left the church with a single governing board, the Church Council. We still have Elders and their role is to take the lead in the spiritual health of the congregation and lead the way in serving and prayer, but they are not a decision making board. The church staff is in the process of transitioning to a new structure that will allow us to be better equipped to function in a multisite setting. Please let me know if you have any questions, when all the details are ironed out. The structure will be available for the church at large.

In the midst of change and transition, one thing remains the same; our great God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit. May we keep our eyes fixed on the Author and Perfecter of our faith Jesus, today and always!

Peace,

The History of Our Church WLC Scrapbook

Our church has had only three senior pastors in its 50-year history: Paul Pfothenhauer (1967-2000), Dean Nadasdy (2000-2012) and Tom Pfothenhauer (2012-present).

Gene Goldsby was the first of eight assistant pastors: Todd Stocker, Marlin Harris, Ben Griffin, Tim Marshall*, Derek Broten, Drew Bayless and Jon Kuehne*. Of this group, two * are still serving at our church, three are still in the area, and Pastor Goldsby is disabled after a stroke. Dean Dunavan is currently enrolled in the Special Ministry Program to one day become an ordained pastor of the Oak Hill Campus.

Since our first vicar arrived, we have hosted 23 seminary students in year #3 of a four-year path to becoming ordained pastors in the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. Here is a list of our beloved vicars, their year of service, and their current whereabouts:

WLC Missions More Focused

Jesus commanded His followers to make disciples of “all nations” (Matthew 28:19). What does that mean? The Greek for “all nations” in this verse is “panta ta ethne”, and can be translated simply as “across all ethnic groups”. As missions experts look across the globe to determine how well the Church is following Jesus’ command, they see many ethnic groups or “people groups” that have not yet heard about Jesus and the saving grace He provides. These people groups range from very large (millions of ethnic Kurds in Iraq) to small tribes (thousands of Chalupe people in Paraguay).

In 2016, WLC leadership asked our Global Mission Team to bring more focus to the types of missionaries and ministries we support. One of the key changes to come out of an 18-month study process is to increase WLC’s support for missions and church-planting efforts among such overlooked people groups. Why? We found this statistic (among others) startling:

- Approximately 27% of the world’s population has not been presented with the gospel, yet less than 5% of missionaries are sent to these areas.

Given this significant imbalance, we developed a process for vetting missionaries we support with criteria that focus on gospel-oriented and church-planting activities among underserved peoples. What’s the practical outcome of our new focus? Of the many missionaries and ministries supported by WLC, support for one missionary couple will end after 2019, and another family’s funding is being reduced by 60% over a multi-year period. This was a difficult process, but one which helps us as we move forward with our focus on overlooked people who need a Savior. Interestingly, the focus isn’t brand new. Several of our missionaries already meet the criteria (e.g., Beckendorfs, Guerreros); we are focusing on work WLC has been involved in for years.

WLC’s vision of Multipling Disciples and Transforming Lives is projected into our local communities and across the globe. Our Missions area is providing resources to people of the world who are nearly ignored by the Christian community. It’s a slow process, and relatively few missionaries are doing it. We’re excited to increase our support in this area.

Living on Mission with Jesus

My friend John lives and works in a community that has a high concentration of immigrants from Nepal. He recently shared this story with me about living on mission.

On Tuesday, I went to my dad’s apartment building to try to introduce myself to his new neighbors. He lives in a 40 unit apt complex that is about 1/3 Nepali occupied. I found his neighbors in the hallway, began chatting and had a great conversation.

At the end I told my dad’s new neighbor that she needed to tell my dad anytime anything was wrong. She had only been in the country for 9 months and her husband had to stay back in Nepal. It is unlikely they will be reunited. I joked and told her dad doesn’t know any Nepali and won’t be able to communicate but he is old and has lived through about everything you can imagine. Ask him to help with anything.

A few days later, dad got a knock on the door by a middle aged Nepali lady in a frenzy, coming from the apartment where I was chatting with the lady in the hallway.

She had accidentally bumped a vent above her oven and had no idea what she had done and was a bit scared. She dragged dad inside and he solved the problem.

We don’t have to hit a grand slam every day in being good neighbors. We just have to show up.

Showing up could look like a lot of things...things like praying, learning names, listening and giving your neighbors a card like this:

Legacy Coalition Grandparenting Matters

Being a grandparent is an amazing blessing. It also is a God-given opportunity to directly influence future generations. As grandparents, we have a natural connection to our grandkids. We enjoy a special relationship. We often plan fun outings and activities as well as just “hanging out”. How can we use that time to build up our grandkids’ faith and equip them to live as Christians in our culture?

In November of last year, a group of grandparents from the East Twin Cities Metro attended a national grandparent conference sponsored by the Legacy Coalition. We were greatly impacted by what we learned and were challenged to bring a local seminar to our region so that more grandparents could take advantage of this blessing.

Join the Legacy Coalition on Saturday, October 27th at New Life Church in Woodbury as they host Minnesota’s first Grandparenting Matters Seminar! Register at: www.grandparentingmattersmn.org/

Donate Life

Just this past week we celebrated with a member from our Oak Hill Campus as she received a donor liver. As we look at others here at Woodbury Lutheran, there are two more individuals who are seeking an organ transplant, and so many more around our country and world. If you are interested in learning about the entire transplant process, visit: <https://www.hennepinhealthcare.org/specialty/kidney-center/transplant-program-services/>

Nancy Erickson and Johnny Muse are currently on transplant lists for a new kidney.

For Nancy’s transplant, they are working with Hennepin County Medical Center (HCMC). While the surgical procedure for a donor is considered very safe, there are risks. The preferred procedure at HCMC (where Nancy will have her’s through) is laparoscopic and results in a quicker recover time.

For someone who wishes to donate a kidney to Nancy, here is the information they will need.

- Nancy’s blood type is O positive, to be a direct donor you need to be blood type O (positive or negative)
- If you are not O, then you can increase the opportunity for Nancy to find a compatible donor by participating in a paired exchange donation. In paired exchange donation, the donor and recipient are matched with another incompatible donor and recipient pair and the kidneys are exchanged between the pairs. The surgeries typically occur simultaneously.

- To begin the process one would go to the above website and follow the instructions, noting that the person you wish to donate a kidney is Nancy
- The process is confidential, even from Nancy, and the suitability of the donor is evaluated by individuals who are not directly involved in Nancy’s treatment

If you’d like more information on being a donor, please visit: <https://www.hennepinhealthcare.org/specialty/kidney-center/transplant-program-services/living-donors/>

If you’d like to know more about Johnny’s transplant, please contact Pastor Tim at 651-739-5144 or marshallt@woodburylutheran.org.

Give thanks. Give life.

Dakota Boys and Girls Ranch Honey Sunday

There is a horse race out there for charities developing commitments from donors for a myriad of social needs. My commitment to Dakota Boys and Girls Ranch began some 30 years ago while doing public image work on behalf of animal agriculture in Minnesota. That time was an era that saw anti-animal agriculture and anti-science movements that spilled over into nutrition, medical and veterinary science. The upshot was; “I trust a spokesman representing his or her contrary point of view over the sound science of the field.”

In the process of preparing messages in support of animal agriculture, the horse therapy program at Dakota Boys and Girls Ranch caught my attention. Horse therapy has two key elements. First, there is the human-to-animal bond that the horse facilitates, which opens the troubled teen to verbalizing their personal trauma to the horse and to a professional in therapy. The second is hippotherapy; it's a form of neuromuscular therapy in which physical therapists use a horse's movement and breathing to improve the coordination of children with disabilities (“hippo” is the ancient Greek word for horse).

Ranch) began in 1952 by a North Dakota ranch couple who took in orphaned and troubled boys. The boys received housing, did ranch chores, had a spiritual life and were expected to continue attending high school. The couple's heart of mercy was the template for The Ranch as a residential treatment and educational center for youth and their families. Today's Ranch students come from the most troubled and abused children that society can lay at its doorstep. The Ranch provides best-in-class psychiatric therapy and trauma-informed care in a Christ-centered environment. My commitment to The Ranch was reinforced when the Governor cited it as having the lowest reactivation rate of all the state's social programs. The Ranch headquarters are in Minot, and they have several treatment facilities in North Dakota.

Oak Hill Campus is holding a “Dakota Boys and Girls Ranch Honey Sunday” donor development day in November. For a small cost, interested donor families will receive a bottle of honey annually and receive quarterly newsletter accounts of amazing life transformations and dedicated Ranch staff.

Short Term Mission Experience

Kake, Alaska

Your generosity allowed a team of 18 from WLC to make the long trip to Kake, Alaska in August. We again supported Pastor Joey Chang and the work his family does to build God's kingdom there. This was WLC's 10th mission experience over an 11-year period to the village. Over that time 110 of our church members have been "on the ground", bringing the love of Jesus to the seaside community of 500. Our first mission to Kake was led by Pastor Dean Nadasdy in 2008. Our presence over the years has led to a level of trust of "the group from Minnesota" by the local residents. This was made clear on our recent visit; we invited 3 Native American elders of the Tlingit tribe to an evening of Q&A with our team so we can continue to learn about their culture. They expressed their deep gratitude for our consistency and the ways we show love to their children and others year after year.

This is a village that needs the love of God shown through Christ-followers like us. In the 6 weeks since our team returned 4 residents died, some young, some old. Some saved by Jesus, some not. Death and other forms of trauma are present in Kake at a level that we don't experience here. But in that environment, the people strive to be resilient. When we bring the love of Jesus to them they are encouraged. The relationships we've built over time are strong, and we're greeted enthusiastically when we arrive by ferry boat.

The practical ways we served this year included insulating the ocean-side wall of Joey's church; there was NOTHING between the interior paneling and the exterior wall of the sanctuary. For years the cold wind has blown into the church during their worship services. We plan to continue this project during future missions. Our other activities were people-focused: VBS and sports camp with the kids, spa night for the ladies (big turnout!), Saturday breakfast for the men, and Bible study, among other things. We did a couple "fix it" projects in the village, too.

Our focus on relationships leads to presenting the gospel of Jesus in one-on-one and group situations in Kake. We're still learning how to do this. To find out more about our mission visit our Kake blog on the WLC website: www.woodburylutheran.org/wlc-in-mission/

Class Opportunities This October:

A Man Named Martin, Pt. 3

This class will look at how the Reformation accelerated the transformation of a world already in flux. While armed conflicts, theological disputes, and heated controversies marked segments of society throughout medieval Europe, the march of the Reformation left its imprint on the face of culture and citizen alike. Everything from education, politics, science, theology, marriage, and the family-and even extending to one's view of vocation and his relationship to God-came under the shaping and seminal influence of the Reformation. Many pieces of the Reformation still shape our lives and worship today. Join us for this discussion!

Class times and locations: Sundays 9:30-10:30am (VC Genesis Room), Sundays 9:00-9:45 (LR Back Hallway), Wednesdays 10:00am-11:30am (OH Fellowship Hall)

Creation, Evolution, and the New Age

What does the Bible say about our existence? No matter what you believe, you're invited to join leaders Herb Goetsch and Stone Sterling for this class as we dig into Scripture and into the 'science' behind those who say we evolved from nothing. Through discussion and scientific resources this class will help give you tools at your fingertips (smartphone or laptop) that you and your children can use in the midst of those who might challenge our faith in a living God, Creator of all things.

Class times and locations: Sundays 9:30-10:30am (VC Lower Level: Family Center)

Befriending

What do relationships look like as we follow Jesus? In our world today there are friendships of all kinds. Yet in the church and in the world, people struggle making relationships with people who are different from them in some way. Join Jane Dibbern as she leads this discussion on what befriending might look like for disciples of Jesus. Each week we will highlight a different group we might struggle to befriend (based on Scott Sauls' book, Befriend) and look at a Biblical model for loving those around us.

Class times and locations: Sundays 9:15-10:15am (OH Church Office)

Financial Peace University

In Financial Peace University, Dave Ramsey and his teaching team will walk you through the basics of budgeting, dumping debt, planning for the future, and much more. This 9-week class has changed the lives of many people and has helped numerous individuals get rid of their debt, prepare for the future, and follow biblical financial principles. Materials cost $103 per family. Register at <https://fpu.com/1073636>.

Five Million Meals! 25,000 Volunteers! Are You Registered?

Woodbury Lutheran Church has joined with the City of Woodbury, local churches, schools and businesses to pack 5 million meals for starving children around the world. From October 4-7, you, along with 25,000 of your friends and neighbors will have the opportunity to participate in the largest FMSC mobile packing event to be held at HealthEast Sports Center. Adults and children will measure and scoop ingredients, seal bags and prepare boxes for shipping. Children as young as five can also help as long as they are with a parent/adult. If you are a leader of an organization that would like to participate (Scouts, etc.) then the minimum age is third grade.

An exciting aspect of this year's MobilePack is that 10% of the funds raised will go directly to the Christian Cupboard Emergency Food Shelf (CCEFS). So in addition to packing for hungry children around the world we will be helping to feed the hungry right here in Woodbury. Registration is now open via the volunteer link found at FiveMillionMeals.org or at FMSC.org. Each packing session is 2 hours and the packing times are the same on all four days: 9-11 am, 12-2 pm, 3-5 pm and 6-8:30 pm. And you can pack as often as you would like – just remember to register for each session.

The local praise band "Seventh Hour" will be kicking off the event with a concert Wednesday evening, October 3rd, at the HealthEast Sports Center. There will also be a variety of food trucks available for your enjoyment.

Love Where You Live

What if, when Jesus said: Love your neighbor as yourself, He really meant it. That He really meant your neighbors--the people next door to you? And what if, the Apostle Paul was right when he said: "From one man [God] created all the nations throughout the earth...and he determined their boundaries"? What if it isn't an accident that you live on the street you live? What if God has a reason for putting you in that house or apartment you find yourself in--so that you can love those people right next door and right across the street: your neighbors? Jesus said: All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments: Love the Lord with all your heart, soul, mind, and strength and love your neighbor as yourself. What if, this fall, we got better at doing what Jesus says matters most?

What if we followed Jesus in loving where we live?

October 6/7

Title: Pray
Reading: Mark 1:35-39
Verse: Mark 1:35
2nd Reading: 1Timothy 2:1-7

Focus: Loving where you live is a process. It won't happen overnight. But as followers of Jesus it is something we are all called to do. By God's design, you are the physical contact point between your friend and the invisible kingdom of God. In the kingdom of God, you don't go alone. God leads the way. As members of this kingdom, our first action in loving where we live is to pray for God's movement in our lives and in the lives of those around us.

October 13/14

Title: Listen
Reading: John 4:4-26,28-30
Verse: John 4:11
2nd Reading: Mark 5:21-43

Focus: It's easy to jump to conclusions about people without really knowing them. But who are your neighbors? What are their hopes and hurts, their hobbies and habits? Loving where you live begins by being present and listening.

October 20/21

Title: Eat, Serve, and Play
Reading: Acts 2:38-47
Verse: Acts 2:46-47
2nd Reading: John 1:43-51

Focus: A neighborhood without neighboring relationships is just a housing unit. How can we develop deep and meaningful relationships in our home communities? As we look back at the history of the church, relationships begin with a simple invitation into community.

October 27/28

Title: Story
Reading: John 9:1-15
Verse: John 9:15
2nd Reading: Acts 22:1-21

Focus: Sooner or later, when you love where you live, the issue of faith will come up. Almost certainly, your neighbor has thoughts and feelings about God, Jesus, and church. Perhaps it's not exactly positive feelings. But when the moment arrives for you to give a testimony of your faith, how will you respond?

Bless with Your Words

A BLESSING CAN BE A PRAYER OF COMMISSION, A BIBLE PASSAGE, OR WORDS OF ENCOURAGEMENT. BLESSINGS CAN BE SPOKEN OVER A CHILD FOR THE PURPOSE OF DECLARING GOD'S PROTECTION, JOY, AND WISDOM OVER HIM.

Many years ago, I read the book The 5 Love Languages: The Secret to Love That Lasts by Gary Chapman. In his book, Chapman concludes that after many years of marriage counseling he believes there are five emotional love languages—five ways that people speak and understand emotional love. They are:

1. Words of affirmation
2. Quality time
3. Receiving gifts
4. Acts of service
5. Physical touch

As a mom, I became fascinated with trying to figure out which love language each of my children possessed. I wanted desperately for them to feel loved and accepted in a meaningful way. I quickly realized each one of my three children had his own unique way of receiving and giving love. Believe me, I'm not saying it was always possible to love three children in three different ways that best met their emotional needs. However it was eye opening and a useful tool whenever the demands of parenting allowed me the luxury of being intentional.

Being a perfect Father, God always knows how to show life-giving, life-changing perfect love. As parents, we can rely on Him to fill our children's hearts; we can turn to His Word and speak His beautiful love language over our children as a blessing.

PARENTS, READ 1 JOHN 4:9-10 OVER YOUR CHILDREN.

This is how God showed his love among us: He sent his one and only Son into the world that we might live through him. This is love: not that we loved God, but that he loved us and sent his Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins.

BLESS

As you pray the following blessing over your child, encourage him to look you in the eye and hold his hands out with palms facing up in a posture to receive the words you are about to speak.

(Child's name), may you understand the deep love God has for you. May you always remember He sent His one and only Son so that you might live. May this example of love set the standard for the way you love others throughout your lifetime. Never forget that God fills you with His love so you in turn can give that love away to others.

As our school year begins, we are blessed to be serving 135 children. We have a great opportunity to support them as they grow cognitively, socially, emotionally, and spiritually.

We are grateful for the ongoing prayers and support that you provide to make the ministry of Woodbury Lutheran Preschool possible. Your generosity and love plants seeds of joy, love and Jesus in our little ones!

Growing Our Substitute List.... We would like to add a few more names to our substitute list. Ideal candidates have a love for little ones, are comfortable engaging in a variety of activities (from painting, to playing blocks, to helping serve and monitor lunch). Teaching background is helpful but not necessary. Contact Sara Mulso at mulsos@woodburylutheran.org if you are interested.
